

Tom: Dude? Why in the world would you do that? Every guy that works in porn knows that they can't tell girls the truth. I mean that's just common sense. You should know by now that that's how society works.

CHARLES: I guess you're right. I was just trying to find my soul mate and I didn't think I should start by lying to whoever I'm going to end up marrying.

Tom: Marriage???? Dude; just go to this dating website called singleladies.com and create an account there. Girls on that website start chatting with you instantly. They always like to get to know guys and stuff. But just do me a favor and don't say anything about what you do for a living. It would just mess everything up.

CHARLES: Alright man. Thanks so much for the advice. I'll keep it in mind. Talk to you later then.

Scene #32: After five months of having taken his friend's advice, CHARLES is able to meet a 28 year old high school teacher named MINDY on the dating website. CHARLES and MINDY exchange messages on-line to get to know each other better. This happens for a month before they decide to arrange a meeting in person. In addition to this, CHARLES had lied to this girl about his true profession from the very beginning.

Scene #33: CHARLES and MINDY meet at a coffee shop inside a mall. After walking and talking around the mall for a couple of hours, they both realize how much chemistry they actually have. As soon as the meeting is over, CHARLES immediately calls his agent and demands him to turn down the renewal for his porn star contract with the adult film company he has been working for. CHARLES absolutely believes in his mind and heart that this is the girl of his dreams and that someday she would actually become his wife.

Scene #34: CHARLES and MINDY start dating right away and soon enough they begin having sex as well. The girl is extremely happy and satisfied with the intimacy because she feels that CHARLES is really wonderful in bed.

Scene #35: Four months into the relationship, MINDY feels that they need to take the relationship to the next level because she has started to develop feelings for CHARLES. She feels that in order to make their relationship stronger, she needs to invite CHARLES to have dinner with her parents. So she decides to take CHARLES to a park to give him the news. And while they're walking by the central fountain of the park, she begins expressing her true feelings.
