

Scene #4: When CHARLES finally gets home, he goes straight to his bedroom; turns on his laptop and starts watching blonde porn. He definitely has a fetish for blonde blue eyed girls and he has always wished for a blonde blue eyed girlfriend.

While CHARLES is watching a porn movie he thinks out loud: Why in the world are those people getting laid and not me? Why can't I just become a porn star like them? They seem to be doing ok in the love department... How the hell could I become a porn star?

CHARLES starts to do his on-line research about the step by step procedure he has to endure in order to become a porn star. He first finds an article about the pros and cons of working in the adult film industry. In the cons section he reads that porn stars are usually discriminated against by society when they apply for normal and conventional jobs after they retire from the adult industry. This fact seems to bother CHARLES but he's too horny to even think about the negative implications that being a porn star might have on him. Surprisingly to CHARLES, he finds under the pros section that porn stars are actually very healthy individuals since they are forced to get tested for STDs every single week. After having read the whole article he looks up interviews from famous porn stars on YouTube to see whether he gets a better insight on the subject. After listening to all the comments and general information from the most famous porn stars, he starts to search for adult jobs available on-line.

CHARLES thinking in his head: Oh man I have to really do this quickly before someone else beats me to it.

CHARLES finally starts filling out some job application forms on the internet and he feels very happy about it since the activity of doing so had seemed to satisfy his sexual thirst.

Scene #5: A month went by and CHARLES is once again sitting in his college history class. He now feels sad because he still hadn't heard back from any adult film companies. Since CHARLES never pays attention to any of his class lectures, (because he's always thinking about sex), he decides to use the time to check out his e-mail on his phone instead. CHARLES was astonished to see that he had actually received a new e-mail about a job offer from one of the adult film companies he had applied to. Like a rocket, he jumps out of his chair and leaves the classroom very eagerly and desperately. He even startles his teacher and the rest of his classmates with his anxiety when he gets out of the classroom.
